Race Conscious
Mill Town Jolted
By Night Gunbattle

BY BILL CRIDER

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — This racially tense mill town, jolted by a flurry of midnight gunfire, guided today to ward off any trouble.

A block of Main Street, target for civil rights pickets, was barricaded. All vehicles were routed around the area. Pedestrians were not affected.

The gunfire came shortly after midnight at a Negro residence where two white civil rights workers have been billeted. Apparently no one was hit.

William J. Yates, 37, of Buffalo, N.Y., a Congress of Racial Equality project director, described the shooting as a clash with the Ku Klux Klan, which has been active in this southeast Louisiana area.

8 Shots Fired

Bogalusa police said about eight shots were fired, all from the Negro home. No bullet holes were found in the house.

At Baton Rouge, Gov. John McKeithen said he talked with Bogalusa authorities and was told there was no gun battle.

"It was obviously an effort by these paid, professional agitators from the North and the East to come into our state and create an incident where they can get publicity and raise more money," McKeithen told newsmen.

In Yates' version, groups of cars sped by the house, with men inside shooting at the house through the car windows.

His host, Robert Hicks, a 38-year-old Negro, saw things differently.

"This car came by and somebody threw a brick through the back window of the station wagon parked in front," he said. "I ran out on the porch and, blam, there was a shot from the car. I snatched out my gun and fired twice."

"Some of the other men fired."

"But it was dark," he added. "I don't think anybody was hit. I hope nobody was hit. I don't want to hurt anybody."

Hicks said there was only one car involved in the shooting, although he said others had driven by the white frame house earlier.

He said there were several armed men on hand because trouble was expected, due to a "Ku Klux Klan rally."

No bullet holes could be found in the Hicks cottage, parked cars or nearby homes.

L. C. Terrell, the assistant police chief, said investigation showed about eight shots were fired. He added that apparently all were fired by the Negroes who were at the Hicks home.

Elaborate Show

The barricades were part of an elaborate show of police strength preceding tonight's civil rights rally. James Farmer, CORE's national director, was scheduled to address an audience at a Negro high school auditorium.

Terrell said the street barricades would be up all day.

In addition to the 34-man city police force, 12 auxiliary policemen were called out to assist in patrolling tonight. State police and sheriff's deputies will help swell the total force.

The barricades were manned by firemen wearing blue helmets and carrying long clubs.

Angry Farmers
March on Paris

PARIS (AP) — Angry farmers and workers from the economically depressed western region of Brittany marched on Paris today and clashed with police in demonstrations protesting working conditions.

The 3,000 demonstrators rode in cars and trucks toward the capital through most of Wednesday night. At the entrance to Paris, leaders opened sealed envelopes with instructions for public demonstrations.

Carrying placards reading "The West Wants to Live," the workers, mostly in their 20s and 30s, marched across the broad Place de la Concorde. They clashed with police at the Pont Royal Bridge leading to the Left Bank. One police officer was slightly injured.

Johnson Promises $1 Billion
For Aid to Southeast AsiaEngland
Welcomes
Proposal

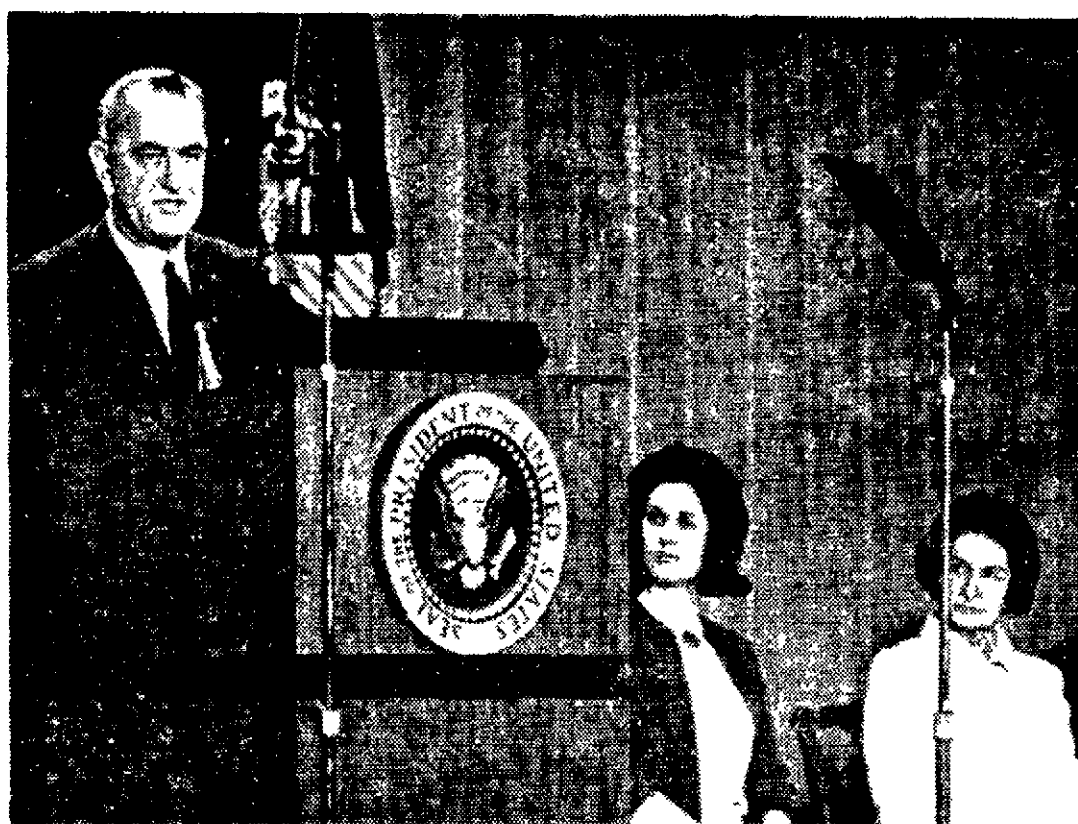

LONDON (AP) — Britain today formally welcomed as "statesmanlike and imaginative" President Johnson's offer for unconditional talks to end the war in Viet Nam.

A statement from Prime Minister Harold Wilson said Johnson's offer "together with his forward-looking ideas for economic reconstruction in Southeast Asia" make it possible to end the conflict and give the Vietnamese people hope for a better life.

The Communist capitals of Hanoi and Peking were silent.

U.S. officials in Saigon said a "particularly strong effort" would be made to get Johnson's words to the people of North Viet Nam, possibly by stepping

Pledges U. S. Ready for Peace Bargaining With
Reds—Unconditionally

BY BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the United States is ready — without preconditions — to sit down at the bargaining table with the Communists to try to negotiate an end to the war in Viet Nam.

And even before any peace talks start, the President said Wednesday night in a major foreign policy address, the United States is prepared to initiate a massive cooperative economic development program for all of Southeast Asia, including Communist North Viet Nam.

As a starter, Johnson told the nation by radio and television from Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, he will ask Congress to authorize a $1-billion American investment in the program.

He proposed that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant launch the plan, invited all industrialized countries including the Soviet Union to join and said he is naming a special team of prominent Americans headed by Eugene Black, former president of the World Bank, to guide U.S. participation.

But while showing the Communists world the carrot, the President did not forget the stick.

He said of U.S. involvement in the war at the side of South Viet Nam: "We will not withdraw, either openly or under the cloak of a meaningless agreement."

And while he said the United States is unconditionally ready to discuss peace, he said: "Such peace demands an independent South Viet Nam — securely guaranteed and able to shape its own relationships to all others — free from outside interference — tied to no alliance — a military base for no country."

"These are the essentials of any final settlement."

Peace Pacts

Johnson said there are many approaches to a peaceful settlement of the war, that old agreements may have to be reaffirmed or strengthened with new ones.

Floods Widespread in Midwest

Waters Cause
Much Damage,
Two Deaths

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Destructive flood waters spilled over widespread areas of the Midwest today. Thousands of persons sought shelter as their homes were filled with

Two persons were killed Wednesday in a southern Minnesota rain storm and two children were missing after they were seen playing near the swollen Battle Creek River in Minnesota's Ramsey County.

An estimated 1,000 persons have been forced from their homes in several Iowa areas. Dozens of communities were in danger of their creeping flood waters.

Flood Damage

Officials said flood damage in Cherokee, a town of 8,500 in northwestern Iowa could exceed $2 million.

The Weather Bureau forecast up to 1 inch of rain by tomorrow.

Cherokee was struck when the Little Sioux River surged to 27.1 feet, before dropping to 25 feet Wednesday. Flood stage is 17 feet.

Northeastern Iowa battled the rampaging Cedar River. Central Iowa was hard pressed to hold back the Des Moines River.

Some residential and business areas in the Waterloo-Cedar Falls vicinity were under water. An estimated 100 homes were evacuated in southwestern Fort Dodge.

Red Cross

The Red Cross said it was caring for 135 persons in shelters in Cherokee, Webster City, Marshalltown and Waterloo, and for 346 flood victims in several other cities.

April rains which struck large portions of the country Wednesday, mixed with mild temperatures, melted the remnants of some deep snowbanks filling rivers and streams to overflowing.

Generally clear weather favored conditions in flooded portions of Minnesota, but new snow fell on top of the deep old snow cover along the Canadian border area, increasing the flood danger.

In parts of Minnesota there was no way to gauge the depth of flooding on the Cottonwood River, which runs into the Minnesota River at New Ulm. The river gauge was an estimated 20 feet of water. The previous high was 16.9 feet in 1947.

The Red Cross said about 500 families had been evacuated in southern Minnesota and the figure was expected to jump to 3,200 within the next few days, when more rivers begin rising in southeastern Minnesota and southwestern Wisconsin.

A dozen roads were closed in southern Minnesota.

Forecasters predicted a crest of 26.5 feet for the Minnesota River in Mankato Friday, a half-foot higher than the city's 26-foot diking system built after the 1952 floods.

Tested in Some Hopeless Human Cases

New Anti-Cancer Agent Destroys,
Slows Several Types in Animals

BY FRANK CAREY

DETROIT (AP) — Development of a new type of experimental anticancer agent — a chemical with molecular "clars" — was reported today to the American Chemical Society.

The synthetic drug has proved effective in destroying or slowing a wide variety of cancers in animals. It has yet to be proved useful in man.

It's a new form of a class of chemicals known as thiosemicarbazones, and it is dubbed "KTS" for short. It has unusual ability to pick up, or "chelate," certain trace minerals present in the body, such as copper, in a claw-like action. It apparently needs copper to give it antitumor activity.

Tests of whether it would be safe for use in man have been started in a few presumably hopeless cases of cancer, reported Dr. Harold G. Petherberg of the Upjohn Company, Kalamazoo, Mich.

But Petherberg said at a news conference at the 149th national ACS meeting that the human tests being conducted at Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, N.Y., are only preliminary ones to evaluate safety.

He indicated that the tests are not expected to provide any gauge of whether the substance would be effective against cancer in man.

Petherberg elaborated on a formal report he and researcher Garret J. Van Giessen, also of Upjohn, prepared for the meeting.

The scientist said, in answer to a question, that the research left unanswered questions, including exactly how the drug works against animal tumors.

But he said the substance, in animal tests, has:

1. Caused complete disappearance of a number of tumors experimentally transplanted into rats and mice — including malignancies of the pancreas, intestines, stomach, muscle and bone.

2. Produced "very marked inhibition (slowing of growth)" of some such tumors that had developed naturally in other test animals.

3. Lowered the incidence of tumor recurrence when sprinkled into wounds made by surgical removal of animal tumors.

4. Shown no evidence of causing significant harm to normal tissue in animals.

Islanders Are Forced From Their Homes

LA CROSSE (AP) — The Mississippi River spilled over its banks Wednesday night, forcing some residents of Pettibone and Green Islands from their homes.

Two families were taken out by Army Reserve units working under the direction of the Red Cross.

The river began to rise swiftly at La Crosse about 6 p.m., shortly after flood gates in Lock and Dam No. 7 a few miles upstream were opened. The gates were opened when ice chunks began piling up behind the dam and some of them were forced over the top.

Crews were called out to chop the ice loose to prevent a stoppage.

After the gates were opened, the river quickly climbed a foot to 10.9 feet and then continued a slow rise. Flood stage is 12 feet.

Davison said that roads to the islands were covered by shallow water when the last of the Army Reserve units finished their work at 9 p.m. He said the trucks can be operated in three feet of water and would be used as long as possible.

Asked about the use of boats for possible evacuees out of the reach of trucks, Davison said, "I hate to think of it." He said swift current and submerged objects made boat operations hazardous.

Ice Jams

A few hours before the ice began to pile up at Dam No. 7, the U.S. Weather Bureau at Minneapolis issued a forecast saying that waters flowing into the upper Mississippi had not caused any widespread flood but warning that when the breakups of river ice began conditions could change rapidly.

The forecast said that if there is an inch of rain accompanying the spring thaw, there is a possibility of floods at La Crosse and in the Kickapoo, Trempealeau and St. Croix River valleys.

A maximum crest of 15 to 16 feet was forecast for about April 21 at La Crosse. That would equal the peak of the 1952 floods which caused extensive property damage, and what Davison called "lots of misery" for about a week.

Reaches Crest

The Trempealeau River reached a crest of 8.8 feet Wednesday at Dodge on Trempealeau County and then began to fall. Flood stage there is seven feet.

The Kickapoo River was expected to crest at 10 feet today at Steuben. The water began to drop Wednesday at the Redstown and Gays Mills. The Kickapoo pours into the Wisconsin River above Prairie du Chien.

Johnson Says U. S. 'Fighting'

Bomb Blasts Residence in Dothan, Ala.

Four Persons Asleep Inside Escape Injury

DOTHAN, Ala. (AP) — An explosion damaged a concrete block residence here early today, but four white persons asleep inside escaped injury.

Detective Lt. Henry Hilson said police were unable to find a motive or determine immediately whether it was dynamite or another explosive.

Hilson said Geraldine Vann, sleeping in one bedroom with her 6-year-old son, Weeden, was administered a sedative because of shock.

Sleeping in another room, the detective said, were Mrs. Vann's 16-year-old son, Wiley, and 44-year-old Fontell Mathews of Enterprise, Ala.

The explosive was set off under the front doorstep of the four-room house, Hilson said, "and if anybody had been in the living room they would have been killed." The bedrooms were on the opposite side of the house.

Leaves on bushes were seared by heat from the blast. Metal fragments were found 150 yards away.

Burnette Branton, who lives 150 yards from the Vann home, said windows were shattered in his house.

The Vann home is located in the outskirts of Dothan.

On North Viet Nam

AP Correspondent Reports Fast Action of Attack From Carrier

EDITOR'S NOTE — AP correspondent Peter Arnett was among the first group of newsmen to be aboard a U.S. aircraft carrier during a raid against targets in North Viet Nam. Here is his report.

BY PETER ARNETT
ABOARD USS Coral Sea (AP) — "This mission is go." Those words, blared across the flight deck of this 63,000-ton floating airfield, sent aircraft handlers in multicolored jackets scurrying and pilots scrambling today. Three hours earlier the briefing officer had told them, "Today we strike the radar station at Cape Ron on the North Vietnamese coast, south of Vinh."

Now the mission was go. The loudspeaker said "Clouds over target, six-tenths broken. Seven miles visibility."

The sharp-nosed, powerful Skyhawk bombers already were wheeling toward the catapults, flapped into position for takeoff from their tightly packed rows. The Skyhawk leader, Lt. Cmdr. W. B. Rivers of Seward, Neb., who had led his planes on a similar raid at Cape Ron last Friday, signaled to the tower. Then he was off in a roar of steam.

Can Be Repaired
The commander of Task Force 77, Rear Adm. Edward E. Outlaw, commented, "We knocked the radar complex out of action Friday, but they can still be repaired. That is no way to leave them."

Rivers' slim bomber soon was scudding across the 17th Parallel, eight miles to the north. He was joined minutes later by a dozen more Skyhawks and they headed for the Communist radar position — a 40-minute flight to the northwest and back. The catapults were spewing steam, thrusting propeller-driven Skyraiders and the more sophisticated Phantom, Crusader and Skywarrior jets into the sky.

Planes Aloft
By 2:45 p.m., 30 planes were aloft.

A sister carrier, the Hancock, had dispatched a similar number of planes to the Vinh Son military complex.

Outlaw said "We have hit five different targets in North Viet Nam since Feb. 7 and in every case I am sure the attack was successful and caused substantial damage to the North Vietnamese logistics and supply system."

"A great deal of credit must go to the pilots, who have been able to get in and find the targets in very marginal weather and deliver their weapons," he said. "They are an aggressive bunch of kids."

Cmdr. Roger Boh, of Bay City

Some Haze
Flying high above the initial jet strike, Boh recalled, "There was some haze toward the west, it was quite difficult."

Outlaw told newsmen on the carrier, "We have encountered certainly intense ground fire on every attack we have made. There has been no sight of enemy aircraft."

But there were frequent alerts. At 3:05 p.m., a blip was discovered on the sensitive carrier radar.

"If it doesn't start squawking (making radio contact) we will shoot it down," an officer commented.

Commercial Plane
The plane turned out to be a commercial airliner heading to Bangkok from Hong Kong.

The first strike aircraft from the Coral Sea were over the target at 3:10 p.m.

Cmdr. Rivers reported "We got hardly any fire coming into the radar station complex."

At 3:55 p.m. the planes had completed blasting the targets.

Cmdr. Boh in his Crusader made the last run.

"We went in with our rock-ets," he said. "We didn't see any ground fire. But don't get me wrong — we aren't complaining about that."

The Hancock lost one plane, but all those from the Coral Sea were safe.

"We can operate day and night like this," said Adm. Outlaw proudly. His Task Force 77 includes three of the nine U.S. attack carriers based in the Pa-

Brillion Told Of $750,000 Plant Expansion

Ariens Co. Slates New Addition at U. S. 10 Location

BRILLION—Plans for a $750,000 expansion program at the Ariens Co. were announced at a Chamber of Commerce meeting here Tuesday night.

In 1963 Ariens built a $225,000, 20,000 sq. ft. plant west of Brillion on U. S. 10. This plant will be increased to 110,000 square feet by late September of this year. Ariens Co., manufacturers of outdoor power equipment, employs 175 people at its two locations here. By mid 1966 the company expects to employ 250 persons.

The 45,800 square foot downtown plant built in 1946 will be sold and the company's entire operation will be at the other location.

Company sales in the 1964 fiscal year ending June 30 increased more than 25 per cent over 1963 and have increased more than 45 per cent in the past five years.

Moscow Calls for Geneva Talks on Cambodian Troubles

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union called today for an immediate meeting of the 11-nation Geneva conference to discuss guarantees for the neutrality of Cambodia.

The Soviet news agency Tass announced that Moscow, as a co-chairman of the Geneva conference had prepared a proposed draft for calling the meeting. The agency said the Soviet Union had urged Britain, the other co-chairman, to accept the Soviet draft. The British would have to subscribe to it before a meeting could be called.

The draft proposed the meeting at the request of Cambodia. Tass said Cambodia has complained that its borders have been violated by American and South Vietnamese troops as a result of the Vietnamese war.

Robert Culp Named Chief of States Department Division

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Philip C. Culp, former resident of Appleton, today became chief of the intelligence section of the state department of taxation, one of the key assignments in the state revenue collection machinery.

The appointment was made by James Morgan, state tax commissioner. Culp started his employment in the state civil service as an auditor in the Appleton office of the department five years ago, and transferred to the intelligence section where he has recently been employed as a special tax agent.

The intelligence division is in charge of detecting and apprehending taxpayers who file fraudulent income tax returns to the state and in the prosecution of those who fail to file returns.

George Corning
The last head of the division was George Corning, who returned to it late last year when it was evident that he would not be reappointed tax commissioner by the new Republican state administration.

Gov. Knowles early this year named Morgan as chief administrator of the department, and a little later Corning resigned from the state service. He is now in law practice and has been engaged for some lobbying work in the legislature.

director, Ald. Al C. Fischer asked what the feeling of the council was on the subject.

"We have a contingency fund and I think now is a good time to use it for hiring a personnel director," commented Ald. Frederick Ziemann (16th).

Ziemann told the council he saw no reason to delay creation of the personnel post, contending that such a move would solve many municipal problems and also be of assistance to the new aldermen.

Needs Help
"There is no doubt that our municipal government needs help with its personnel problems," Ziemann said. "Our committee did its best but the problems are so broad in scope that a personnel director is a must, and as soon as possible."

Criticism was leveled at the council for delaying action on the proposals.

We asked the Bureau of Personnel to expedite the updating of the pay plan and they went beyond the call of duty to give us their recommendations as fast as they could," Mrs. Stillings said.

She also recalled that at its goods stores in shopping centers were inevitable and just a matter of time in Appleton.

The welfare ordinance committee will present a new proposed policy to the council at some future meeting.

Ald. Richard Huisman (1st) championed the cause of women bartenders and Groh defended the present policy which permits females to serve beer as long as the licenses are on the premises.

Ask Change
Before the council was a request from a local concern to let women serve beer when the licenses were not present. It would require they be issued an operator's license, however.

Groh said he thought existing policy was satisfactory and warned that any change might lead to problems the kind Appleton doesn't need.

Taking the wind out of the present policy was a legal opinion by City Atty. Frederick E. Froehlich that it was in violation of the constitution.

The policy discriminates against women," Froehlich said, but I suppose it can stand until someone challenges it in court."

Brilliant New Season Set by Town and Gown

As Current Program Ends With Fanfare, Fall-Winter Events Ahead Announced

BY JINGO

With the 1964-65 season which begins Monday with a fine brass fanfare safely tucked away in memory books, the Town and Gown Concert Series of Oshkosh looks toward the 1965-66 season with bright anticipation.

And what a season it is going to be!

The sweep encompasses Shakespeare and Puccini with Canadian folk music and Mark Twain thrown in for good measure and featuring the pianistic skill of John Browning enjoys continuous success at the box office.

According to announcements that went out to subscribers Tuesday, the seasons opens Oct. 1 with "The White Rose and the Red," a sweeping examination of the English York and Lancaster civil war derived from Shakespeare's Henry V, Henry VI and Richard III.

Starring as Margaret of Anjou, who did more than her share in getting all of the trouble started, will be Vivienne Bennett, one of England's greatest leading ladies.

Pianist Browning On Nov. 9, the season will have a change of pace with the appearance of John Browning, who is considered one of America's greatest pianists.

The new year gets a powerful push into excitement when on Jan. 25, Boris Goldovsky brings the haunting and exciting "La Boheme" to Civic Auditorium.

The I Solisti Veneti, a string ensemble from Venice under the direction of Claudio Scimone, will make its appearance on Feb. 21. It will be a part of its first American tour.

Folk Ensemble Great Spring will be heralded with the appearance of Les Feux Follets, 65 dancers, musicians and singers of the Canadian National Folk Ensemble, on March 21. This program of Indian, Eskimo, French-Canadian, Acadian, Scottish, Irish and Welsh dance and music also will be making its first United States tour.

The season will be climaxed on April 18 with the incomparable Hal Holbrook in his famed Mark Twain concert.

All of this has a mark of the highest quality. Contact Robert E. Brismaster, Town and Gown executive director, at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh for all of the details. Do it early. Don't lose out.

Sunday, while Jingo was watching one of the late shows on TV he was struck by the absurdity of one of the drum thumping ideas that pour out of Hollywood lately. In fact, the idea that Ann-Margaret could be considered as a possible replacement of Rita Hayworth caused Jingo to laugh — with tears in his eyes.

The laughter came from the absolute impossibility of linking the Winnetka Swede with the glamorous Rita and the tears came from the realization that there can be no new Rita.

This latter sad note came out of the realization that Hollywood just doesn't know—nowadays—what to do with a pretty girl. The heavy handed moguls today will never achieve the enchanting entertainment of Rita's era as long as they contend that female beauty can only be used in the kind of livestock parades in which they have thrust Ann and her pretty competitors. Talent and pretty clothes, it seems, are things of the past.

Wittenberg Brownies Guests on TV Show

WITTENBERG — Members of Brownie Troop 129 were recent guests on a Green Bay television show.

The Brownies also are planning a visit Monday to the maple syrup cooking operation at the Homme Home for Boys.

Channel 11 Airs Drama Of Holy Days

9-10 (Channel 11) — During the Jewish High Holy Days, a dramatic, touching documentary Let My People Go is being presented by producer David Wolper. With much rare and previously unseen film footage, producer Wolper traces the tragic search of the Jews for a homeland. Some heartbreaking scenes here, and an air of great courage through the entire show.

One of the scenes in the documentary shows the late Col. Al Leithen of Appleton, then a lieutenant in Army Intelligence, guiding Generals Eisenhower, Patton and Bradley through Buchenwald shortly after the death camp's liberation.

9-10 (Channel 4-5) — The roving Perry Como Show lands, with some good guests, in the middle of Miami Beach's 50th birthday celebration. The live show promises both good music and comedy from guests Al Hirt and Woody Allen. Lending glamor is Connie Stevens.

6:30-7 (Channel 2) — Baseball fans will get a kick out of The attorney who is overly villainous Munsters which has a better in his approach.

show than usual. Seems Herman (Fred Gwynne) can throw a baseball eight blocks, can field flies up against the fence and wind up wearing the fence, and break up a double play and any base runner who comes in contact with him. All this talent is spotted by Leo Durocher.

6:30-7:30 (Channel 4-5) — A lot of action and suspense as Daniel Boone concludes its exciting two-parter. The Indians are outside the fort, led by Frenchman Michelet (Cesare Danova), who further debilitates the depleted defenders of Boonesborough by blowing up their powder magazine.

7:30-8 (Channel 11) — My Three Sons pokes fun at computers, while pointing up their uses and limitations in a funny episode. The university's computer matches up perfect mates for Mike and Sally—and the results surprise both of them.

7:30-8:30 (Channel 4-5) — Dr. Kildare nearly drowns in soap-suds in an episode filled with pathos. It's all about kidney transplants, a woman who is willing to die rather than reveal to her husband "their" child is not his, and the real father, who can't even remember the woman.

8-8:30 (Channel 11) — An electronic garage door is the basis for a funny Bewitched. Samantha and Darren have had to have the door installed because of an earlier piece of witchcraft by Samantha. But passing airplanes cause the door to open and close and Darren is so sure Sam is still using witchcraft, he makes her swear off.

8:30-9 (Channel 2) — Celebrity Game, which is distinguished by Carl Reiner's humor and a cumbersome format, returns, marking time until fall programming starts.

8:30-9 (Channel 11) — Violence comes to Peyton Place as Paul goads George into doing something about Leslie Harrington. George, in a highly agitated state, gets a "confession," but then there is a neither of those two gentlemen.

9-10 (Channel 2) — The Defenders raises a question bothering many people—the rising crime rate in nice neighborhoods. But it dissipates the values of many of E. G. Marshall's arguments by having him opposed by a district attorney who is overly villainous Munsters which has a better in his approach.

Victory Needed Before Talks on Viet Nam War

Nations Demanding
Peace Really on Communist Side

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — Demands that the government of the United States sue for peace in Viet Nam are coming not only from hostile sources but from various foreign governments which profess to be "non-aligned," though they are really on the Communist side. They imply the United States should say now that it will agree to a cease-fire even without achieving its aims in the Viet Nam war.

There are, indeed, some influential persons in and out of public life who are speaking along the same line. They are doing a distinct disservice, however, to the very cause they believe they are supporting — namely, the ending of the war and the making of peace in Southeast Asia.

What seems to be overlooked is that, when a nation is at war, it doesn't tell its adversary what weapons it intends to use, what areas it plans to attack, or exactly how long it intends to continue the fight.

Certainly during World War II there were very few voices raised demanding that the government of the United States sue for peace. The late President Roosevelt and the allies insisted on a complete defeat of the enemy before any negotiations would be begun.

Case in Korea

The United States is today engaged in a war which has already cost many American lives, and it is important that these sacrifices shall not have been in vain. The object of America in Viet Nam is to repel aggression — just as was the case in Korea in 1950. Gen. Douglas MacArthur did not tell the enemy that he would make a major attack at Inchon. Indeed, the enemy later got encouragement only through diplomatic channels when it found out that some of the western European countries had insisted that the United States should not bomb the bases in Red China from which troops, planes and supplies were coming regularly to resist U.N. forces in Korea.

President Johnson is pursuing the right course in fighting the battle to a decisive point. Everybody knows the United States will, of course, sit down at the peace table some day, just as it has done with adversaries in the past. But the decision as to when any move shall be made to begin a peace negotiation is a very crucial one. If initiated at the wrong time, it could be construed as meaning that the United States was giving up the fight. It could be misinterpreted for years to come as a sign that the United States, after entering a war to help a smaller country protect itself against aggressors, got discouraged and bowed to the enemy.

Reds Watch U.S.

The Communists are watching American public opinion closely. Every time they read an article in the newspapers voicing a "peace-at-any-price" sentiment, the Communists get encouragement. They doubtless believe that, if they can keep the harassment going in Viet Nam, the United States will tire of the whole affair, yield to pacifistic elements and enter a peace negotiation.

To discuss peace under such circumstances would doom any pact that might be signed. The agreement would be disregarded at will by the enemy, because if the United States has failed to attain its military aims, the impression will prevail that attacks can be resumed at any time with impunity.

There are those observers who would like to have the Both in World War I and not only possesses the power. President Johnson is having United States spell out now in World War II, the United States, but is willing to use it for plenty of problems in fighting detail exactly what its plans proclaimed the general principle — to preserve the Viet Nam war itself, but are, not only for carrying on the ples of a worthwhile peace the independence of the weaker apparently he is also finding it war in Viet Nam but for the treaty, but insisted first on a nations of the world. difficult, because of misguided conference that inevitably will military victory. Parents' World

Mother Questions Value of Pre-School Cutoff Dates

BY DR. EVE JONES

DEAR DR. JONES: Can you make sense of something for me? It concerns child psychology, although it isn't strictly up your alley.

It's that my girl is five years old, but has her birthday just four days after the cut-off date until next Fall when she'll finally be old enough to enter.

In the meantime, I keep reading about the importance of early enrichment programs and how our city is going to start a special pre-kindergarten program for 4-year-old children in deprived areas. Now if it's that important for young children to have the school experience, why do they have such rigid rules about birthdays?

DEAR MRS. J. M.: You have to start somewhere. Most taxpayers feel that a tax-supported nursery school program is justified only in low income areas for people otherwise unable to provide needed care for their children. Parents like you who know their children are unhappy being deprived of kindergarten ordinarily pay tuition to enroll their children in nursery schools. You can save her three more months of boredom if you enroll her now. Why don't you?

DEAR DR. JONES: Why do you only talk against spanking? It isn't the only kind of treatment that frightens a child. Screaming and yelling and harsh scolding also frighten a child. In addition, it sounds bad. Say something against it, won't you?

DEAR MRS. M. E.: Somehow parents have to claim a child's attention when he's doing something wrong and divert him. Momentarily startling him with a loud shout is an effective method that leaves no lasting after effects.

"What the neighbors will think" is mainly governed by our notions of how polite aristocracy behave. We think shouting is bad because it's very emotional, and we think aristocratic people don't get emotionally involved in what they're doing. Once we give up attitudes, snobbish attitudes, we'll find it easier to be honest about how we feel and even if that involves yelling in outrage.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Change Hair Color in Minute

Did you ever wish you could sunset, and a brunet job at change your hair color to suit a nightfall whim of the moment? Well, it can be done in a whiz with a bang-scarf.

The novel duo provides bangs that snap onto the underside of a triangular scarf. Thus you can cater in a trice to your every color mood — wear blond bangs in the sunlight, red bangs in the

As scarves are variously colored, from pure white through hot pink to sullen black, effects are yours to command. Just fix red bangs with a hot pink scarf, and watch the fireworks of admiration.

Washable. Not incidentally, these bangs are washable, settable and flameproof. Scarves have a nonslip feature, which makes for a stay-put drape whether your favorite tie is in front or in back.

Any way you figure it, the "do" could make a teen feel like a starlet with her own make-up man. Older heads will find it a comfortable and pretty means to camouflage hair that needs protection or attention. For all of us girls it brings beauty-full relief from worries about a wind-tuffed coil or a dank head from swimming.

Come to think of it, this just might be a quick, carefree and fun way to get more bang out of life under the spring and summer skies.

North, with 14 points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton can well afford the opening bid and the spade raise. South wastes no time in getting to game since he has a good suit with 13 points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton.

It would seem that South has more than enough strength for his game, but he must actually play the hand carefully to make up for the bad placement of the ace of hearts, the king of diamonds and the trumps.

Tiny Turnovers

Small-size pastry turnovers made with cheese or fish make an excellent hors d'oeuvre. They may be prepared ahead, wrapped appropriately and stored in refrigerator or freezer. When you take the turnovers out of their storage place, put them on foil and heat in a moderate oven.

You will raise hearts at your next turn. This shows about 11 or 12 points in support of hearts, too much for a single raise but not enough for an immediate jump to three hearts.

Viet Nam Puts Off Red Bomber's Trial

200 Viet Cong Reported Dead In Big Battle

5 South Vietnamese Killed, 25 Hurt In Second Success

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. officials claimed today that up to 200 Viet Cong guerrillas were killed Wednesday night in a major battle with Vietnamese marines in Binh Dinh Province, about 320 miles northeast of Saigon.

Five South Vietnamese were reported killed and 25 wounded. There were no American casualties, the Americans said.

It was the second major success claimed this week in the ground war against the Communists. U.S. officials reported Wednesday that 276 Viet Cong were killed and 33 captured in a three-day battle in the Mekong River delta 130 miles southwest of Saigon. Six Americans and 16 South Vietnamese soldiers died in that battle.

Naval Meeting

In Saigon, young naval officers staged a mutiny against their commander, Adm. Chung Tan Cang, but the revolt appeared to have the approval of the government and the other South Vietnamese armed forces.

Sources in the government said Cang, a close associate of ousted strong man Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, had ignored repeated requests to resign. The mutiny therefore was not surprising, and the government was not worried, the sources said.

Air force Skyraiders were circling the city as night fell, apparently to make sure there was no trouble.

No Shooting

There was no shooting and no unusual troop movements in the capital.

U.S. Air Force jets and other combat planes flew 63 missions today against a suspected large Viet Cong concentration in Kontum Province, near Saigon. Results were not reported immediately.

The U.S. Navy announced that one of its 7th Fleet Skyhawk jet fighters was shot down by Communist ground fire and crashed into the sea on Wednesday's strike against transport routes in North Viet Nam. The pilot was missing and presumed killed, the Navy said.

Viet Cong Threatens They Will Execute Captive American if Terrorist Dies for Embassy Blast

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, with Thai on a motorbike. A (AP) — The South Vietnamese government announced today it had postponed the trial of one of the terrorists who bombed the U.S. Embassy. The Viet Cong had threatened to shoot an American captive if the bomber was executed.

Saigon authorities said the trial of Nguyen Van Thai, 33, was postponed indefinitely. Hanoi Radio broadcast a communique Wednesday from the Viet Cong's political agency, the National Liberation Front, saying if Thai was executed, Gustav C. Hertz, a U.S. aid mission official missing since Feb. 2, also would die.

The broadcast made no reference to the execution, scheduled today, of Le Dau, 24, admitted Communist agent arrested Sunday night at Da Nang. He was caught in a hotel with a transistor radio filled with 1/2 pound of explosives.

Hertz

Another Postponement There were indications Le Dau's execution would be postponed again. It was set back from Tuesday with the explanation that he was still giving useful information.

Saigon authorities had not announced imposition of the death penalty on Thai. But the Communist broadcast claimed there was scheming to that end "under the pretext that he was involved in the bomb blast at the U.S. Embassy."

Hanoi's broadcast not only gave the first word from the Communists that they actually had Hertz as a prisoner. It also constituted the first admission that the Reds were responsible for the embassy bombing which killed two Americans and 20 Vietnamese.

The broadcast said none of the terrorists were killed in the blast and that all the bombers returned "safely to their base." After the bombing, however, South Vietnamese authorities said the terrorist who drove the sedan loaded with explosives up to the embassy was killed by the blast as he tried to ride off.

ing the cardinal's decision to Pope Paul VI, the Vatican Holy Office and Francis Cardinal Spellman, whom he described as the "senior American cardinal."

He said he would select laymen as leaders "because no priest will stick his neck out after what I got."

The movement recently made public a manifesto criticizing substitution of national languages for Latin in Church services. It also opposes compromise with Protestants on Christian doctrine.

Lawrence Cardinal Shehan met with De Pauw in Baltimore Wednesday for 21 minutes. The cardinal announced afterwards through Bishop T. Austin Murphy that De Pauw "in a spirit of loyalty to his lawful superior declared his acceptance of the cardinal's directive" to disassociate himself from the movement.

De Pauw said he was appealing the cardinal's decision to Pope Paul VI, the Vatican Holy Office and Francis Cardinal Spellman, whom he described as the "senior American cardinal."

'Early Bird' in Orbit, Ready to Find Its Place

Satellite Will be Sent Into Final Roost on Friday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Early Bird satellite, already a proven handler of television signals, looped the earth today in readiness for a maneuver to push it toward its permanent roost in space.

Communications Satellite Corp. engineers planned to fire small gas jets designed to guide the world's first commercial communications satellite to a point over the Atlantic between Brazil and South Africa.

A small kick-motor then will be fired Friday morning over South America to direct the satellite into a circular orbit 22,300 miles high.

Appear Stationary

There its speed will match the earth's rotation, making it appear stationary in the sky.

The 85-pound satellite was launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., Tuesday night.

Engineers gave the satellite a test Wednesday and received television patterns of excellent quality.

Signals were sent to the spacecraft for several minutes from a ground station at Andover, Maine. The test originally was scheduled after the satellite reached its permanent orbit.

Foreign Ministers Get Johnson's Talk

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk handed copies of President Johnson's speech on Viet Nam to foreign ministers of the Central Treaty Organization today and stressed America's commitment and hopes for peace in Southeast Asia.

Rusk spoke in a closed session of the anti-Communist alliance, whose ministers are meeting here.

Large Negro Denominations to Join in Protestantism Reunion

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — "I have no doubt that they specific outline for unification. Moves toward a wide reunion of American Protestantism took on a new interracial dimension today.

Indications came from three large Negro denominations that they will join the project.

Other church leaders applauded the news.

"It is something we had hoped for," said Episcopal Bishop Robert F. Gibson, Jr. of Richmond, Va., presiding chairman at the "consultation on church union."

"It will strengthen the consultation by making it more truly representative of all Christian people in America. It has never been our intention that this should be a union of predominantly white churches."

Early Action Observers from three Negro Methodist bodies, with a total of about 2½ million members, said they anticipated early action by their denominations authorizing official entry into the talks.

Comprehensive Church "It will rightfully make for a more comprehensive church," said Methodist Bishop James K. Matthews, of Boston, head of his delegation.

The word from the Negro bodies came in response to a direct invitation. It was issued as the consultation decided to start preparing a

Democrats Press To Okay Health Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democratic leaders, ignoring Republican charges of "rubber stamp," press today for passage by nightfall of a $6-billion health care-Social Security bill.

Republicans concentrated their efforts on a preliminary vote, expected late today, on substituting for the bill President Johnson backs one introduced by Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis.

The Byrnes bill is similar in most respects to the administration measure, but would not provide payroll tax increases to finance a hospital benefit for the aged. Instead, the bill would provide higher payments by participants and general Treasury subsidy.

Have Votes Democrats, however, said they have the votes to pass the administration version overwhelmingly.

"The Congress of the United States has become a rubber stamp," Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., said Wednesday in a speech complaining that the bill had not been given adequate airing in public hearings.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, defended the bill against charges that it would impair professionalism in medical practice.

Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo., a physician, said it would lead to destruction of the doctor-patient relationship and overcrowding of hospitals.

But Mills said the committee Catholic and Eastern Orthodox representatives, said they felt certain their churches would not regard direct participation as feasible.

However, representatives of the three Negro denominations — Christian Methodist Episcopal, African Methodist Episcopal Zion and African Methodist Episcopal, already in merger negotiations themselves — responded affirmatively.

Others, including Roman Catholic and Eastern Orthodox representatives, said they felt certain their churches would not regard direct participation as feasible.

Priest Says He Will Name Traditional Move Leaders

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest, who has agreed to drop his public opposition to changes in Church liturgy, says he will select new leaders for the Catholic Traditionalist Movement.

The Rev. Gommar A. De Pauw, professor of canon law at Mount St. Mary's Seminary in Emmitsburg, went on television and stated his views in a televised interview Wednesday night.

Lawrence Cardinal Shehan met with De Pauw in Baltimore Wednesday for 21 minutes. The cardinal announced afterwards through Bishop T. Austin Murphy that De Pauw "in a spirit of loyalty to his lawful superior declared his acceptance of the cardinal's directive" to disassociate himself from the movement.

De Pauw said he was appealing the cardinal's decision to Pope Paul VI, the Vatican Holy Office and Francis Cardinal Spellman, whom he described as the "senior American cardinal."

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

Dear Louise: Would it be proper to give a house warming or Open House for my son and his wife? The boy has been in service four years. They have been married three years. The wife's sister, mother and my son's grandmother want this to be a coin party as they had a quiet wedding in the East during a leave. My son who isn't in favor of a coin party, say it doesn't look right. I too don't like the idea of sending out invitations asking for money.

Louise Davis Answers:

Your son has the right idea. Asking or hinting for money or gifts isn't correct. The young people have been married for a long time. Surely friends and relatives were informed which gave them plenty of time and opportunity for the sending of wedding gifts. If the couple just arrived on your local scene, there should be nothing to stop anyone, even members of the family, from giving them a welcome home party but not a house warming which suggests gifts or a coin party which literally asks for money. I hope that your son and his wife can talk these well-meaning relatives out of such an idea.

ORDER FOR ATTENDANTS

Dear Louise: My sister will be married in June and we need your help. She will have four bridesmaids, a maid of honor and a matron of honor. In what order should they go down the aisle in the processional?

Louise Davis Answers: Following the ushers in the processional should be the four bridesmaids either singly or in pairs. Next comes the matron of honor, then the maid of honor who is directly ahead of the bride.

DIVORCED PARENTS

Dear Louise: What is the proper way to announce the engagement and marriage of a girl whose parents are divorced and the mother has since remarried? The girl and her father are on good terms. The father has supported her. Should he give her away?

Louise Davis Answers:

The engagement and marriage should be announced by the girl's mother, assuming that the girl was brought up by the mother. It would be incorrect that both parties do any announcing together. When submitting the engagement to a newspaper, it should be stated that "Miss Smith is also the daughter of Henry J. Smith (his address)." This has nothing to do with the affection between the father and the girl. Since father give her away and that they are on good terms, it

4. Fold this edge to meet the lengthwise fold mark and stitch along the edge, leaving an opening at center back to insert the elastic. Stitch 1/4 inch toward the fold for casing. Insert elastic and knot ends securely (about 2 inches have been allowed for the knot). Stitch the casing closed. Gather the other raw edge to fit the crown and stitch it to the crown.

Clear Air Of Cigarette Smoke Odor

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN
Q: Is there any way to clear the air of the odor of cigarette smoke within a reasonable time? We find that when we have a group of people in, smoking heavily for several hours, in spite of opening the windows the odor remains in the living room for several days.

A Room deodorizing preparations, available at supermarkets, housewares and hardware dealers, are usually very effective at getting rid of this kind of odor.

Q: I have noticed in our attic and basement that some of the 6 x 4's are turning black. What is this? It seems to me that the house has a peculiar odor. What can we do about condensation around windows?

A: Everything you mention points to an exceedingly serious problem of too much moisture within the house, and lack of proper air circulation and ventilation. The source or cause of the excessive dampness—faulty flashings, improperly water-proofed foundation or basement floor, lack of drain tile around the foundation, improperly vented laundry or heating or cooking appliances, etc.—must be tracked down and corrected. The "black" you notice is doubtless mildew from the

D. T., Vancouver, Wash.

Dear D. T.:

You're pretty much on your own as the bridegroom, where the wedding expenses are concerned. The bridegroom's parents can sit back, financially speaking at the wedding. However, sometimes they give a small party in advance of the wedding to introduce the bride's family to their relatives and close friends.

Your own expenses at the moment will be for the following:

The engagement and wedding rings; marriage license; blood tests; gifts to the bride, best man, and ushers; ties and gloves for the best man, and ushers; bridal bouquet, bride's going-away corsage, corsages for mothers, boutonnières for his attendants; clergyman's fee; bridegroom's personal trousseau and wedding attire; transportation to the wedding for himself and best man. And the honeymoon.

Now, understand, D. T., the above items are those involved in a formal wedding. The degree of formality, of course, sets the cost pace. A couple can get married—and often do—with fewer trappings. But since the bride has the decision on such matters, you might as well be prepared for all the trimmings. You can break down the majori-

$9,325. Grant To Go to CD In Winnebago

WASHINGTON — Rep. John A. Race today announced that Winnebago County will receive a $9,325 federal grant to improve the temporary Civil Defense emergency operating center in the basement of the Winnebago County Courthouse. The center will provide a protected site from which the local government can conduct emergency operations and have an emergency power source. The emergency operating center will be protected from fallout and will reduce radiation level to at least 1-100 the of the fallout intensities outside of the building. It is due for completion by Dec. 30, Race said. It will be used by various county agencies in normal functions including those of the sheriff's office, agricultural agent and the civil defense director. The representative said it will accommodate a staff of up to 28 persons.

The World Today

Now Johnson Pleads For Talks on Viet Nam

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is peace President Johnson who is pleading for a discussion to end the fighting in Southeast Asia not in making his plea, in a nationwide broadcast from Baltimore Wednesday night, Johnson reported 50 per cent of the American planes in an effort to take a softer line than his administration has been following on the fence, supporting since Feb. 7 when Red guerrillas attacked an American air base and Johnson ordered bombing. This shift in position came one day after The Associated Press reported 50 per cent of the people in South Viet Nam are supporting the American-backed government nor the Red guerrillas.

Offered Aid
In his broadcast Johnson offered $1 billion in American aid for Southeast Asian economic development, saying he hoped North Viet Nam would join in the cooperative effort as soon as "peaceful cooperation is possible."

The two Republican leaders in Congress, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan took a dim view of this economic offer from Johnson. Earlier this year after the bombing of North Viet Nam had begun they denounced suggestions of seeking peace through negotiations with the Communists. They said such a move would be "running up the white flag."

Wednesday night they decided would enter into worthwhile discussion, said Johnson, meant the backward people

United States would talk even with the fighting going on.

Accepting Appeal

In taking this position Wednesday night Johnson was actually accepting an appeal made April 1 by the heads of 17 nonaligned states for immediate negotiations "without any precondition for a solution to the war."

(At the time they made the proposal Rusk was reported by authoritative sources as informing the group that peace in Viet Nam could be restored "very quickly" if Communist aggression ceased.)

The only condition that Johnson suggested Wednesday night was that there should be no precondition.

But, while he is seeking to persuade the Reds to start talking the American government is making great effort to persuade the people of South Viet Nam to support their government, which the United States is fighting for.

Red Support

The Red guerrillas are estimated to have the support of about 8 per cent of the South Vietnamese the South Vietnamese government about 40 per cent. That leaves roughly 50 per cent refusing to support one side or the other.

To win them over this country is distributing 200,000 small transistor radios among them and beaming a barrage of broadcasts at them, which also means propaganda.

This is the situation in South Viet Nam where the struggle has cost about 400 American lives, billions of dollars in American aid, and has been going on with American backing for years.

Johnson Wednesday night said the South Vietnamese masses like people everywhere, want a good life. He painted the world as that modern medicine, increasingly serious this past year Johnson Wednesday night made this offer.

Unconditional discussion of the North Vietnamese feeling indifferent if this country had insisted more forcefully on their governments that more of the American aid reach these backward people.

University Issue Up to Compromise

Assembly Proposal Requests Two Four-Year Institutions

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — The period of compromise that is characteristic of legislative politics has apparently begun on the issue of establishing two new state universities to provide four year collegiate education opportunity in the Fox Valley and southeastern Wisconsin.

The introduction yesterday of a bi-partisan substitute amendment in the state assembly for the original proposal for the creation of two new four year institutions in the two populous districts was a concession to Republican Gov. Warren P. Knowles, who has said positively that he won't support more than third and fourth year instruction built upon the existing freshman-sophomore University of Wisconsin extension centers in the two areas.

Sponsors of the substitute are Assemblyman Jerome Quinn, of Green Bay, a Republican who has been among the leaders of the group representing the Fox River Valley demand for a new four year institution, and Assemblyman George Molinaro, Kenosha Democrat, who is an eager champion of a new school in southeastern Wisconsin and preferably in Kenosha.

May Disappoint

The Quinn-Molinaro bill may disappoint some of the supporters of the new school plan who thronged the Wisconsin assembly chamber recently to show their support for the original bill, as a retreat from the prescription as originally put forward by the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education after extensive studies.

But in actuality it may provide opportunities for strategic choices later. The original four year institutions proposal remains before the state senate. Sen. Gerald Lorge of Outagamie County, its primary author, said here last night that he has no intention of modifying it and that he will watch developments on the assembly developments closely.

Thus it may be that the test votes on the original measure in the senate and on the substitute proposition in the assembly will ultimately dictate the strategy that may be followed by the backers of the movement to extend higher education opportunity into two of the important economic regions of the state.

The assembly is under the control of the Democrats. Republicans control the senate.

The assembly substitute, meanwhile, also contained an obvious attempt to mollify one of the chief Republicans in the assembly, GOP Floorleader Robert Haase of Marinette.

Oppose Original

Haase opposed the original bill, as some of the influential citizens of Marinette and vicinity told the legislature that they want some kind of a forestry educational program in the state higher education system. The Quinn-Molinaro bill contains a provision directing the Coordinating Committee to study that need in relation to the timber economy of upper Wisconsin, as it was described by the Marinette delegation at the hearing recently.

The reduction of the original appropriation sought from $2,400,000 to $400,000 may also be designed to win support for the new schools' authorization at a time when a painful state budget deficit looms. Molinaro

Driver Program Starts Monday

KIMBERLY — The classroom phase of the Vocational School driver education program will get underway at 7 p.m. Monday at the Senior High School, according to Ansel Anderson, school director.

All persons interested in the behind-the-wheel training to be offered this summer must attend classroom sessions, noted the director. A fee of $5 is charged resident students and $15 non-resident students while $15 and non-residents $25.

Election Expenses Must be Reported to Clerk by Friday

KAUKAUNA — Karl E. Marzahl, city clerk, Wednesday reminded candidates in Tuesday's election, state law requires post election expense accounts to be filed by 5 p.m.

Expense accounts must be filed by defeated as well as winning candidates, stated the clerk.

2 More Showings Planned for KHS Production 'J.B.'

KAUKAUNA — After playing to full houses on four occasions last week, the Kaukauna High School production, "J. B.," will again be offered to the public at 8 p.m. Thursday and Friday.

The play, presented in-the-round, is held in the student commons where seating capacity is limited to 148 people. Director is Thomas Schaefer. Tickets for the affair are available at the school office.

Zing into spring! Chevelle by Chevrolet

'65 Chevelle Malibu Convertible—with color-keyed all-vinyl upholstery

It's the most popular mid-size traveler built—which isn't surprising when you consider who built it.

There's no doubt that a car like this could get by on its good looks alone. Without ever having to rely on family connections.

But the fact that it is built by Chevrolet assures you right off it's got a lot more going for it than merely meets the eye. It tells you, for example, that beneath those impetuous-looking lines you can have the impetuous kind of power—6 or V8—that Chevrolet has a reputation for putting in its cars. It tells you that you get Body by Fisher handwork inside and out (with the kind of meticulous attention to detail that goes into some of the most expensive cars around). It tells you that you're going to get a ride developed by engineers who are old hands at putting the squeelch on bumps (Chevelle has Full Coil suspension at all four wheels, similar to the regular Jet-smooth Chevrolet).

Knowing all this, you probably won't be startled by the fact more people are now buying Chevelle than any other car its size. But you will have a happy surprise when you check what you can buy one for—right now at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Phils Poll 77 Firsts, But St. Louis Gets Nod on Point Basis

BY MURRAY CHASS

The New York Yankees, who couldn't beat Johnny Keane and the Cardinals in the 1964 World Series, will get another crack at St. Louis — with Keane on their side — this year.

The Yankees were voted into a record-shattering sixth straight American League pennant by a narrow margin in balloting by 266 sports writers and broadcasters in The Associated Press' annual pre-season baseball poll.

St. Louis received an even slimmer margin over Philadelphia and Cincinnati.

The Yankees, with Keane having replaced Yogi Berra as their manager, recorded 60 more points than Baltimore and 160 more than the Chicago White Sox. The Cardinals, now under Red Schoendienst, outpolled the Phils by 76 points and the Reds by 91.

Boyer Trial Set May 11

Maris Acquitted, Plans To File Counter-Claim

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Roger Maris, acquitted of a charge he slugged a man in a bar fight last week, said he had decided to sue for more than $100,000.

"I did not swing at anybody," the New York Yankee outfielder told Municipal Court Wednesday. "I was shoved from behind and thrown against the plaintiff. That was all."

After the judge found him innocent and he rushed to a spring training game, Maris announced he was going to file a civil suit against his accuser, Jerome Modzelewski, a 25-year-old male model.

Modzelewski, who divides his time between agencies here and in Chicago, also has pressed charges against Clete Boyer, the Yankees' third baseman.

That trial is set for May 11.

Quiet Boyer

A bartender, Robert J. Burns, said he was trying to quiet Boyer "when the bang happened. That's when Boyer hit him (Modzelewski)."

Burns and another witness said they did not see Maris take a swing.

Modzelewski and his red-haired companion, 21-year-old Angela Della Vedova of Sudbury, Ontario, testified that the rhu-barb started when they were leaving Nick's Bar the night of April 1.

Modzelewski said he heard an

For 19 games this spring, the thunder that resides in Al Kaline's bat sounded like a whimper and the notion that the Detroit Tigers might have an outside shot at the American League pennant, came out like whistling in the dark.

Kaline, around whom the Tigers' attack has revolved ever since he won the batting championship 10 years ago, had been struggling through training with his batting average hovering near .150. And Tiger brass, aware that Kaline had a less than spectacular season last year, were a bit concerned.

The veteran right fielder batted .293, second lowest figure in his career, last year with just 17 homers, a drop of 10 from his 1963 figure. In 19 games this spring he had driven in just three runs and had no homers.

Come Alive

But Al seems to have come alive at last and his awakening came not a moment too soon for acting Manager Bob Swift. Kaline's third homer in the last 58

Terrors Will Defend FRVC Indoor Track Title Friday

Powerful Sheboygan North Rates As Favorite; Host Manitowoc Looms as the Second Choice

BY TERRY GALVIN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Sheboygan North's talent-laden track squad, fresh from a 60-31 victory over Manitowoc, is an odds-on choice to snap Appleton High School's 2-year domination of major Fox River Valley FRVC tests in '63 for a current FRVC tests in '63 for a current 6-FRVC meet string.

The '65 indoor championship, which opens with the time trials at 5 p.m., boasts one of the strongest fields in its young history. Eight schools (North, Appleton, Manty, Sheboygan South, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Green Bay East and Southwest) will compete. The ninth conference member, GB West, has announced that it will again forego the indoor test.

With a number of last season's top stars dotting the various rosters, each event appears to be an individual contest in itself.

3-Way Fight

Teamwise, North is the favorite with Manitowoc second. Appleton, on paper, appears to be in a 3-way fight for third place with Fondy and East. Oshkosh and Sheboygan South should follow in order.

Among the returning individual champions are East's Jim York (5-11 in high jump) and Jim Barnhart (13-0½ in pole vault) and North's Glen Siegl (.06.5 in 60-yard dash). Barnhart went on to win the state vault title in Madison later in the '64 season.

Despite Barnhart's formidable record, he is not a "shoo-in" by any means. North's Jerry Medlin finished second in the state meet and cleared 12-3 against Manty Tuesday. The Ships' Glen Lasch soared over the 12-foot mark Tuesday and placed third in the '64 indoor ahead of Oshkosh junior Bill Oaks. Either of the four is capable of victory. AHS' hopes in the vault will be carried by Russ Kamine with support from Larry Einspahr or Bill Ristow.

Top Contender

Appleton's Geoff Garrett is the top contender for the mile title with Fondy's Dan McLain rated a close second. The Terrors' captain, Dennis Brinkman, runnerup in the '64 880, has rugged opposition in North's Dick Brand and South's Dick Leslie. Brand cruised the 5-lap trek in 2:06.15 Tuesday.

North, with Pete Van Driest and Mike Hoon, should dominate the mile.

Jimmy Brown Predicts Another Title for Browns

LIBERAL, Kan. (AP) — Jimmy Brown, Cleveland fullback, predicted Wednesday Browns will win the National Football League championship again in 1965.

Brown said Cleveland's strongest opposition in the Eastern Division may come from Washington and Dallas.

Both Washington and Dallas "always have had an explosive-type offense," Brown told a luncheon of the Kiwanis Club. "They have stressed defense in their draft choice this year."

"With their already established offense, and now being able to stop the other teams from scoring, the Eastern Division will not have a weak sister."

Clay Carroll Hurls Milwaukee to 4-1 Win Over Yankees

Rookie Gets Strong Relief Help; Felipe Alou, Mack Jones Homer

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Rookie Clay Carroll, a righthander billed as a relief prospect at the start of spring training, appears to have ousted veteran Hank Fischer from the Milwaukee Braves' starting pitcher rotation.

Carroll came through with another fine performance before tiring and giving way to Dan Osinski, Milwaukee's new relief ace, as the Braves defeated the New York Yankees 4-1 before a crowd of 2,673 Wednesday at Fort Lauderdale.

Carroll allowed only three singles for five innings, but ran into control trouble in the sixth. Alter Joe Pepitone singled, Hector Lopez walked and John Blanchard doubled in a run, Osinski was summoned to put out the fire and preserve Carroll's 2.67 earned run average. With Carroll making a surprising bid for a starter's role, Fischer has become a forgotten man in the Milwaukee camp. Fischer has hurled only 12 innings and has a 3.75 earned run average this spring.

Record at 13-12

The Braves scored more runs in the game than they had in a week in hiking their Grapefruit League record to 13-12 and handing the Yankees their 16th defeat in 26 outings.

Actually, the Yankees hardly resembled the Bronx Bombers in ending their home exhibition campaign. Manager Johnny Keane rested regulars Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris, Tom Tresh, Clete Boyer and Elston Howard. Some, if not all, are expected back in action tonight when the Braves and Yanks meet in Jacksonville.

The Braves nailed down the decision with three runs, including an unearned pair in the second inning.

Felipe Alou started the rally with his third exhibition homer, a towering shot over the left field fence.

NFL Players Group to Meet Club Owners

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The discussion could get out of hand player pension fund and its administration is expected to come under fire Friday when National Football League owners meet with their player representatives in what one official described as "an exchange of ideas." Players want representation on the pension board, now made up of NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle and two businessmen not connected with football. They are Ted Etherington, president of the American Stock Exchange, and Clyde Vandenberg, a California public relations executive. Friday's meeting at the plush Ivanhoe Hotel is the outcome of a request made last January when players asked for a meeting between six of their representatives and six owners. The players said they wanted to discuss certain proposals to be presented to the owner.

The club owners' answer was that this could be accomplished at the regular meeting in February at Palm Springs, Calif. After that confab, each owner invited his player representative to meet with the 14 owners and Rozelle.

Cleveland Expected To Be Most Improved In American League

BY JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Confidence, pride, ability and the sight of a heretofore unreachable goal should spur the New York Yankees on to a sixth straight American League championship.

Three Solid Hitters

The Sox have three solid hitters in Pete Ward, Bill Skowron and Floyd Robinson. John Romano, acquired from Cleveland, should strengthen the catching.

Baltimore has an outfield problem, and another at first base

Manager Hank Bauer is experimenting with Paul Blair, a 21-year-old defensive whiz, in center field. Curt Blefary, a hard-hitting rookie from Rochester, may also land an outfield berth, if Boog Powell is switched to first base. Norm Siebern, the first base incumbent, has not emerged from his 1964 doldrums.

The winter trades that brought Rocky Colavito, Chuck Hinton and Ralph Terry, together with the rapid rise of young pitchers Luis Tiant, Sonny Siebert and Sam McDowell, have greatly improved the Indians.

In contrast, the Tigers have done little to improve their pitching and infield which ranked among the also-rans last year.

Beat Off Boards

"They beat us off the boards, and we didn't run enough," said Laker Coach Fred Schaus. "We played to their strength by not running. We looked tired and didn't seem to have snap coming off the defensive boards."

Dick Barnett, who scored 18 for Los Angeles, pulled a groin muscle for the second time in the series, and Schaus said he may not be able to start in Friday's fourth game.

"We're still in good shape with the edge," Schaus said. "But, we've got to run. We know it, and they know it. It's no secret."

Scoring Title to Miami's Barry

Averages 37.4 in 26 Games; Bradley Tops in Free Throws

NEW YORK (AP) — It's official now. Rick Barry of the University of Miami, Fla., Hurricanes, is the individual scoring champion for the 1965 college basketball season.

The National Collegiate Athletic Bureau put the official stamp on Barry's 37.4 average in 26 games in its final statistical release of the season for major colleges.

Barry, a 6-foot-7 senior from Roselle Park, N.J., scored 52 points in his first game of the season last December. That put him in the No. 1 spot and he stayed there all season.

He finished with 973 points on 340 field goals and 293 free throws in 26 games to beat out the late Wayne Estes of Utah State and Bill Bradley of Princeton.

Estes finished second with a 33.7 average in 19 games before his tragic death early in February. Bradley wound up third with an average of 30.5 in 29 games. They were the only ones to average 30 points or better.

2,000-Point Total

In addition the three also crashed the 2,000-point career total along with Davidson's Fred Hetzel and Wyoming's Flynn Robinson.

Barry, in addition to his scoring, finished fourth to Toby Kimball of Connecticut in rebounds and 10th to Bradley in free throws.

Kimball took the rebound crown with 483 in 23 games for an average of 21.0. Bradley made 72 of his last 79 charity throws to take the foul shooting title with a percentage of 886 on 273 conversions in 308 tries.

Tom Kehoe of St. Peter's N.J., beat out Henry Finkel of Dayton for the field goal percentage title. He hit 46 of his last 62 shots from the field to finish with a 660 percentage that erased the former record of 656 set by Lyle Harger of Hous. and in 1963 Finkel, who led most of the season, finished second with a 651 mark.

Barry's team, the Hurricanes from Miami, finished on top in the team scoring race with an average of 98.4. Tennessee beat Oklahoma state in team defense, yielding an average of 55.64 to 55.66.

Braves' April 17 Tilt To Start at 4:15 p.m.

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves announced that the starting time for their National League baseball game with the Chicago Cubs here on Saturday April 17 had moved from 1:30 to 4:15 p.m. to fit in with network television programming. The Braves open with the Cubs on Thursday April 15 and have an open date on April 16.

Baseball Needs Milwaukee, Spahn Says During Interview

MILWAUKEE (AP) — South paw Warren Spahn, sold to the New York Mets after more than two decades with the Braves, says it was a "great privilege" to pitch in Milwaukee.

Spahn, who will be 44 April 23, was cast off by the Braves after slumping to a 6.13 record last season. Now the winningest left hander in baseball history is a pitcher-coach with the Mets.

"I've straightened out a lot of people out East who were told that Milwaukee couldn't support major league baseball," Spahn said Wednesday in a telephone interview with Lou Chapman of the Milwaukee Sentinel. "I said that it is the only city of its size in the world which could turn out 2,200,000 strong in one season."

"I told them, too, that Milwaukee's fans not only are baseball people, but fanatic baseball people. And I wound up with the statement that it's not a case of Milwaukee needing baseball, but rather of baseball needing Milwaukee."

Between his periods of tub-thumping for Milwaukee, Spahn has been busy preparing himself and the Met pitching staff for the 1965 season. He said he sets up the pitching rotation and works out bullpen assignments after daily conferences with Manager Casey Stengel.

"I'm going with the best pitchers as starters—and I'm going to be one of the best of the Milwaukee pitchers," he said. "I think I can help the Mets. If I feel I can do it by pitching every fourth day, that's what I'll do. If not, it'll be somebody else."

FOR BEGINNERS...
• HOLD THE FINISH •

ONE WAY FOR BEGINNERS TO DEVELOP GOOD FORM AND BALANCE IS TO FORGET THERE IS A BALL BEFORE THEM AND CONCENTRATE STRICTLY ON THE FOLLOW-THROUGH, THEN HOLD THE CLUB FOR A FEW SECONDS IN HIS FINISHING POSITION.

... FOR TO HOLD A STEADY FINISH WITH NO SIDEWAYS OR BACKWARD SLIT REQUIRES THROUGHOUT THE SWING.

STANCE, HEAD POSITION, FOOT WORK, WEIGHT SHIFT, TIMING, RHYTHM, HIP AND SHOULDER ACTION—ALL CONTRIBUTE TO THE FINISH. IF YOU END THE SWING OFF-BALANCE YOU CAN BE SURE YOU MADE AN ERROR ALONG THE WAY.

candidates for first place in the 60-yard dash. Zoelle, runnerup to Siegl last season, holds the meet record of .063 in the trials. Siegl edged the Fondy speedster for the title with a .065 effort. Van Driest matched the 6.5 Tuesday.

Ron Brinkman and Bruce Witter, both clocked in .0675 in practice, are AHS' dash hopes. Ed Olson and Gary Volkman, who are continuing to show great improvement could surprise North in the high and low hurdles. Their best times are .78 seconds for the low and .81 (Olson) and .82 (Volkman) in the high.

Jim Dunsirn is the lone fifth Terror hope in the broad jump; with Tom Maves an excellent back-up man for Garrett in the mile. Garrett and Maves could conceivably place 1-2 in the 10-lapper. Dunsirn may also back up Miller in the high jump.

The AHS relay team is comprised of Ron Brinkman, Dave Nowell, Bruce Witter and Dennis Brinkman in the 4-lap event and Rick Miller, Nowell, Les Bowers and either Gerard Hendricks or Tom Gerrits in the mile relay.

a total of 2,189 points while Philadelphia had 2,113 and Cincinnati 2,088.

The world champions' slim triumph was built despite their having received only 40 first-place votes compared with 77 for the Phillies and 73 for the Reds, a rare disparity in the poll.

Once they got past the top spot, though, the voters generally regarded the Cardinals as the strongest team of the trio. Only 23 ballots placed St. Louis below fourth place while 61 spread Philadelphia from fifth through ninth and 68 scattered Cincinnati in the same way.

Votes were counted on the basis of 10 points for first, nine for second, etc., down to one for 10th.

109 Firsts

The Yankees' selection was made certain by 109 first-place votes, far more than the Orioles' 67 and the White Sox' 73. New York finished with 2,400 points, Baltimore 2,340 and Chicago 2,240.

In proving the prognosticators correct last year, the Yankees won the pennant by one game over Chicago and two over Baltimore. St. Louis nosed out Philadelphia and Cincinnati by one game each.

If the Cardinals come through as selected, it would mark the first time since 1957-58 when the Milwaukee Braves won that a team will have repeated as pennant winner in the National League.

The paper battle for the top spot in the NL was much closer. The Giants, fourth last season, drew 24 first-place votes and a total of 1,877. The Dodgers, pre-season choices last year who wound up in a tie for sixth, held fourth place in the pre-Season Koufax injury poll with 36 first-place votes and 1,939 over-

Voted into the second division were Milwaukee, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Houston and New York.

Race Conscious Mill Town Jolted By Night Gunbattle

BY BILL CRIDER
BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — This racially tense mill town, jolted by a flurry of midnight gunfire, girded today to ward off any trouble.
A block of Main Street, targeted for civil rights pickets, was barricaded. All vehicles were routed around the area. Pedestrians were not affected.
The gunfire came shortly after midnight at a Negro residence where two white civil rights workers have been billeted. Apparently no one was hit.
William J. Yates, 37, of Buffalo, N.Y., a Congress of Racial Equality project director, described the shooting as a clash with the Ku Klux Klan, which has been active in this southeastern Louisiana area.

8 Shots Fired
Bogalusa police said about eight shots were fired, all from the Negro home. No bullet holes were found in the house.
At Baton Rouge, Gov. John McKeithen said he talked with Bogalusa authorities and was told there was no gun battle.
"It was obviously an effort by these paid, professional agitators from the North and the East to come into our state and

Angry Farmers March on Paris

PARIS (AP) — Angry farmers and workers from the economically depressed western region of Brittany marched on Paris today and clashed with police in demonstrations protesting working conditions.
The 3,000 demonstrators rode in cars and trucks toward the capital through most of Wednesday night. At the entrance to Paris, leaders opened sealed envelopes with instructions for public demonstrations.
Carrying placards reading "The West Wants to Live," the workers, mostly in their 20s and 30s, marched across the broad Place de la Concorde. They clashed with police at the Pont Royal Bridge leading to the Left Bank. One police officer was slightly injured.
Elaborate Show
The barricades were part of an elaborate show of police strength preceding tonight's civil rights rally. James Farmer, CORE's national director, was scheduled to address an audience at a Negro high school auditorium.
Taerrell said the street barricades would be up all day.
In addition to the 34-man city police force, 12 auxiliary policemen were called out to assist in patrolling tonight. State police and sheriff's deputies will help swell the total force.
The barricades were manned by firemen wearing blue helmets and carrying long clubs. Hicks is vice president of the

Fourth Successive Day Communists Continue Autobahn Harassment

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists closed the Berlin autobahn today, a statement from the U.S. mission in Berlin said.
They reopened it one hour after a U.S. Army convoy challenged the blockade.
There was no way of learning immediately whether the barrier of the Western Allies' uncles were lifted because of the U.S. challenge or whether the Communists had planned a shutdown of only three hours. That was the length of the closure Wednesday.
The U.S. convoy was being processed at the Communist checkpoints for the trip to West Berlin when all traffic was allowed to resume.

Longer Living Assured

Man May Soon be Spending Half of Life in Retirement

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Indiana's Commission for the Aging and Aged, noted that while a man's life expectancy will increase to 77 by 1975, "working people are retiring at younger ages every year."
George E. Davis, chairman of the commission, said that workers within the next 10-15 years may be leaving jobs at the age of 50.
"This means if a man lives to be 80, he could spend 30 years of his life in retirement, compared to some 30 years on the job," Davis said.
About 100 pharmacists from Indiana and Illinois attended the two-day clinic, which ended today.

Johnson Promises $1 Billion For Aid to Southeast Asia

England Welcomes Proposal

LONDON (AP) — Britain today formally welcomed as "statesmanlike and imaginative" President Johnson's offer for unconditional talks to end the war in Viet Nam.
A statement from Prime Minister Harold Wilson said Johnson's offer "together with his forward-looking ideas for economic reconstruction in Southeast Asia" make it possible to end the conflict and give the Vietnamese people hope for a better life.
The Communist capitals of Hanoi and Peking were silent.
U.S. officials in Saigon said a "particularly strong effort" would be made to get Johnson's words to the people of North Viet Nam, possibly by stepping

Pledges U. S. Ready for Peace Bargaining With Reds — Unconditionally

BY BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the United States is ready — without preconditions — to sit down at the bargaining table with the Communists to try to negotiate an end to the war in Viet Nam.
And even before any peace talks start, the President said Wednesday night in a major foreign policy address, the United States is prepared to initiate a massive cooperative economic development program for all of Southeast Asia, including Communist North Viet Nam.
As a starter, Johnson told the nation by radio and television from Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, he will ask Congress to authorize a $1-billion American investment in the program.
He proposed that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant launch the plan, invited all industrialized countries including the Soviet Union to join and said he is naming a special team of prominent Americans headed by Eugene Black, former president of the World Bank, to guide U.S. participation.
But while showing the Communist world the carrot, the President did not forget the stick.
He said of U.S. involvement in the war at the side of South Viet Nam: "We will not withdraw, either openly or under the cloak of a meaningless agreement."
And while he said the United States is unconditionally ready to discuss peace, he said: "Such peace demands an independent South Viet Nam — securely guaranteed and able to shape its own relationships to all others — free from outside interference — tied to no alliance — a military base for no country."
"These are the essentials of any final settlement."
Peace Pacts
Johnson said there are many approaches to a peaceful settlement of the war, that old agreements may have to be reaffirmed or strengthened with new ones.
"We have stated this position

Mississippi Overflows at La Crosse Floods Widespread in Midwest

Waters Cause Much Damage, Two Deaths

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Destructive flood waters spilled over widespread areas of the Midwest today. Thousands of persons sought shelter as their homes were filled with water.
Two persons were killed Wednesday in a southern Minnesota rain storm and two children were missing after they were seen playing near the swollen Battle Creek River in Minnesota's Ramsey County.
An estimated 1,000 persons have been forced from their homes in several Iowa areas. Dozens of communities were in danger of their creeping flood waters.
Flood Damage
Officials said flood damage in Cherokee, a town of 8,500 in northwestern Iowa could exceed $2 million.
The Weather Bureau forecast up to 1 inch of rain by tomorrow.
Cherokee was struck when the Little Sioux River surged to 27 feet, before dropping to 25 feet Wednesday. Flood stage is 17 feet.
Northeastern Iowa battled the rampaging Cedar River. Central Iowa was hard pressed to hold back the Des Moines River.
Some residential and business areas in the Waterloo-Cedar Falls vicinity were under water. An estimated 100 homes were evacuated in southwestern Fort Dodge.
Red Cross
The Red Cross said it was caring for 135 persons in shelters in Cherokee, Webster City, Marshalltown and Waterloo, and for 346 flood victims in several other cities.
April rains which struck large portions of the country Wednesday, mixed with mild temperatures, melted the remnants of some deep snowbanks filling rivers and streams to overflowing.
Generally clear weather favored conditions in flooded portions of Minnesota, but new snow fell on top of the deep old snow cover along the Canadian border area, increasing the flood danger.
In parts of Minnesota there was no way to gauge the depth of flooding on the Cottonwood River, which runs into the Minnesota River at New Ulm. The river gauge was an estimated 20 feet of water. The previous high was 16.9 feet in 1947.
The Red Cross said about 500 families had been evacuated in southern Minnesota and the figure was expected to jump to 3,200 within the next few days, when more rivers begin rising in southeastern Minnesota and southwestern Wisconsin.
A dozen rivers were closed in southern Minnesota.
Forecasters predicted a crest of 26.5 feet for the Minnesota River in Mankato Friday, a half-foot higher than the city's 26-foot diking system built after the 1952 floods.

Workers Fight a losing battle as ice smashes over the top of the lock of Mississippi River Dam No. 7 late Wednesday at LaCrosse. Miles of ice fields broke loose upstream. Gates of the dam will be opened to the maximum for the first time in history. (AP Wirephoto)

Islanders Are Forced From Their Homes

LA CROSSE (AP) — The Mississippi River spilled over its banks Wednesday night, forcing some residents of Pettibone and Green Islands from their homes.
Two families were taken out by Army Reserve units working under the direction of the Red Cross.
The river began to rise swiftly at La Crosse about 6 p.m., shortly after flood gates in Lock and Dam No. 7 a few miles upstream were opened. The gates were opened when ice chunks began piling up behind the dam and some of them were forced over the top.
Crews were called out to chop the ice loose to prevent a stoppage.
After the gates were opened, the river quickly climbed a foot to 10.9 feet and then continued a slow rise. Flood stage is 12 feet.
Davison said that roads to the islands were covered by shallow water when the last of the Army Reserve units finished their work at 9 p.m. He said the trucks can be operated in three feet of water and would be used as long as possible.
Assembly Okays Public Bus Rides for Private, Parochial School Pupils
MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin Assembly gave surprisingly strong approval today to a constitutional amendment that would permit public bus transportation to be provided private and parochial school children.
An 82-11 vote, taken without debate, moved the proposal out of the Assembly and to the Senate.
An identical amendment passed both houses of the 1963 legislature but was ruled invalid last month by Atty. Gen. Bronson LaFollette.
LaFollette said a clerical error that added the word "apportioned" to a definition of parochial and private schools entitled to bus service wiped out the previous legislature's action.
To change the constitution, an amendment must pass two successive sessions of the Legislature and be ratified in a public vote.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Junior South Vietnamese naval officers staged a mutiny in Saigon tonight against the navy commander, Ad. Chung Tan Cang.
Skyriders of the South Vietnamese air force, which is loyal to the government, were circling the city, apparently to make sure there was no trouble. There was no shooting.

Tested in Some Hopeless Human Cases New Anti-Cancer Agent Destroys, Slows Several Types in Animals

BY FRANK CAREY
DETROIT (AP) — Development of a new type of experimental anticancer agent — a chemical with molecular "clars" — was reported today to the American Chemical Society.
The synthetic drug has proved effective in destroying or slowing a wide variety of cancers in animals. It has yet to be proved useful in man.
It's a new form of a class of chemicals known as thiosemicarbazones, and is dubbed "KTS" for short. It has an unusual ability to pick up, or "chelate," certain trace minerals present in the body, such as copper, in a claw-like action. It apparently needs copper to give it antitumor activity.
Tests of whether it would be safe for use in man have been started in a few presumably hopeless cases of cancer, reported Dr. Harold G. Pethering of the Upjohn Company, Kalamazoo, Mich.
But Pethering said at a news conference at the 149th national ACS meeting that the human tests being conducted at Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, N.Y., are only preliminary ones to evaluate safety.
He indicated that the tests are not expected to provide any gauge of whether the substance would be effective against cancer in man.
Pethering elaborated on a formal report he and researcher Garrette J. Van Giessen, also of Upjohn, prepared for the meeting.
The scientist said, in answer to a question, that the research left unanswered questions, including exactly how the drug works against animal tumors.
But he said the substance, in animal tests, has:
1. Caused complete disappearance of a number of tumors experimentally transplanted into rats and mice — including malignancies of the pancreas, intestines, stomach, muscle and bone.
2. Produced "very marked inhibition (slowing of growth)" of some such tumors that had developed naturally in other test animals.
3. Lowered the incidence of tumor recurrence when sprinkled into wounds made by surgical removal of animal tumors.
4. Shown no evidence of causing significant harm to normal tissue in animals.
Johnson Says U. S. 'Fighting'
WASHINGTON (AP) — Official Washington refers habitually to the American military men battling the Communists in Viet Nam as "military advisers."
But not President Johnson in his speech Wednesday night. He said "we fight because we must fight."

Hooligan Girls Roam London and Attack Visitors

LONDON (AP) — A gang of teen-age girl hooligans struck Wednesday night.
In the Hoxton area of the East End, they jumped four teen-age girls from another section of London.
Two of the visiting girls were almost stripped. They were treated for injuries at a hospital. One was detained with head and rib injuries. Police said the attackers were about 12 in number, and wore jeans and leather jackets.
"The girls who attacked us," said Georgina Christopher, 13, "were like savages."
She said the attackers robbed them, kicked them, pushed lighted cigarettes in their hair and banged their heads against a wall.
Police detained five girls until after midnight and then sent them home in charge of their parents.

Peace Corps Is Gaining Ground Across India

Government Asks
For Larger Group
Of American Helpers

BY DAN COGGIN
MEHRAULI, India (AP) —
Peace Corpsman Tim Crean was bent over his battered desk catching up on paperwork when a great cackling and clucking shattered the quiet of the village street outside his tiny office.

In burst a bearded Indian peasant and several helpers bearing armloads of excited, flapping chickens which they dumped on the floor.

In the babel of Hindi and Punjabi, languages Tim understands, he learned that a family crisis brought this Indian chicken farmer and 150 birds to the Indian cooperative union, a poultry venture started with his advisory help a year ago.

Helpers transferred the flock from a bullock cart to the office.

Social Caste
The chicken farmer explained that he was a Brahmin. Parents of his daughter's fiance threatened to cancel their marriage contract unless he stopped working with poultry — they deemed this unworthy for India's highest social caste.

A week later — after the wedding — the farmer came back for his 150 birds and stayed in the poultry business.

"You might call him a satisfied customer," chuckled Crean, 24, a native of Portland, Maine, recalling this lighter episode of his tour as one of 274 Peace Corps volunteers in India.

The Indian government, encouraged by results of the program that started with 26 volunteers three years ago, continues to ask for more and more corps-men.

Brent Ashabranner, 43, Peace Corps director in India, said his contingent will grow to about 650 in September, may number 1,000 by this time next year and stands to be perhaps the largest peace corps team in any nation.

"But the program will still be small in terms of India's potential and need," Ashabranner said, noting that India's 480 million outnumber the populations of Africa and Latin America combined.

Crean last April brought American know-how to Mehrauli after spending his first three months in India on a poultry project in the desert state of Rajasthan. People eager to start chicken and egg enterprises need expert advice.

Tim launched Mehrauli's government-aided poultry cooperative with 12 families and 1,500 chickens. It now has 40 families and 15,000 birds and 10,000 more chickens will be added before
Tim completes his tour in September.

Mustard Plots
Families now participating in the project were all farmers previously and scratched out an average of 30 rupees — $6.30 — a month raising mustard seed or other crops on small plots of land. Getting enough to eat was a daily crisis.

Given loans to cover most of their initial poultry outlays, these families now earn an average of $42 a month — far above the nationwide average.

Tim supervises the coopera-tive's feed-mixing mill, oversees cleaning and packaging of eggs
— retail price 63 cents a dozen
— and handles marketing arrangements.

The operation is going so well,
according to Tim's superiors, that no other corpsman is expected to be assigned to Mehrauli when he goes home.
The Indians can run it themselves.

Tim will go back to school in September and hopes to add a degree in Indian studies from the University of Pennsylvania to his political science degree from the University of Maine, class of 1963. His eventual aim is to return to India as a diplomat.

4 New London Area Townships Return Their Incumbent Chairmen

NEW LONDON — A record 415 voters in the Mukwa Township turned out Tuesday to decide a heated three-way contest for the town chairman post.

Ray O'Connell ran a distant third with only 97 votes.

Wilson succeeded Eugene Bradt as chairman last fall.

Unopposed candidates elected to town offices were incumbents: Kenneth Van Ornum, clerk; James Mulroy, treasurer, and elected were Elmer Beyers, constable, with 22 write-in votes and Ted Wilson, justice of the peace, with four write-in votes.

Class locations will be deter- mined after registration so transportation can be arranged according to the numbers en- rolled.

Cartwright Land; City Rejects Use

WAUPACA — After viewing a fifth set of plans for a proposed Waupaca County jail Wednes- day, jail committee members continued their recommendation that the jail be the one designed for the Cartwright property on Royalton Street.

Waupaca Mayor Lloyd Mathe- son informed the group that the City of Waupaca has now decided that it will not have police offices in the new jail regardless of where it is located. Earlier the city had considered having the police headquarters in the new jail, providing it was located on the Courthouse Square or within a four-block area.

The plan which was presented to the committee Wednesday had been requested at a meet- ing last week. The fifth plan was a one-story structure lo- cated on the site of the present jail and would have taken away much of the courthouse parking lot.

$360,000 Cost — Cost would be approximately $360,000. The design calls for 14,492 square feet on the ground level floor and 10,057 square feet of basement space.

In viewing the plans, commit- tee members found a lighting problem in the cell block area of the jail, squad cars would have to back into the street from the garage, there was no room for future expansion and it would mean that prisoners would have to be transported to another jail for between 12 to 14 months while the new jail was under construction.

Supv. Elmer Paul, (1st, New London), a member of the committee said "the people of Waupaca hate to see the jail go away from the courthouse be- cause they fear that someday the courthouse itself will be moved away from the downtown area."

At the February county board meeting, three plans were ex- plained by Robert Surplice, the architect. The board voted to withhold a decision until more study could be made and the issue returned to the floor at the April meeting.

The first plan presented to the jail committee included quar- ters for the sheriff and was not presented to the board.

May be Closed — V. A. Verhulst, state jail inspector, has indicated that it

Robert Culp Named Chief of States Department Division

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Philip C. Culp, a former resident of Appleton, today became chief of the intelligence section of the state department of taxation, one of the key assignments in the state revenue collection machinery.

The appointment was made by James Morgan, state tax commissioner. Culp started his employment in the state civil service as an auditor in the Appleton office of the department five years ago, and transferred to the intelligence section where he has recently been employed as a special tax agent.

The intelligence division is in charge of detecting and apprehending taxpayers who file fraudulent income tax returns to the state, and in the prosecution of those who fail to file returns.

George Corning
The last head of the division was George Corning, who returned to it late last year when it was evident that he would not be reappointed tax commissioner by the new Republican state administration.

Gov. Knowles early this year named Morgan as chief administrator of the department, and a little later Corning resigned from the state service. He is now in law practice and has been engaged for some lobbying work in the legislature.

Culp lives in Madison with his wife and four children. He is a Certified Public Accountant and has a degree in business administration from the University of Wisconsin school of commerce.

Supv. Walter Ciura (Dayton): The jail is designed so that it would be flexible and the entire building could be used for men in case the need arose. Verhulst increase of only eight. The remainder of the cells would said.

The jail committee will meet April 19 to draft a final recommendation for board action April 21.

The Kelly property, also located on Royalton Street, has been eliminated as a possible site because it lacks necessary frontage and is in a residential zone.

Moscow Calls for Geneva Talks on Cambodian Troubles

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union called today for an immediate meeting of the 14-nation Geneva conference to discuss guarantees for the neutrality of Cambodia.

The Soviet news agency Tass announced that Moscow, as a co-chairman of the Geneva conference, had prepared a proposed draft for calling the meeting. The agency said the Soviet Union had urged Britain, the other co-chairman, to accept the Soviet draft. The British would have to subscribe to it before a meeting could be called.

The draft proposed the meeting at the request of Cambodia. Tass said Cambodia has complained that its borders have been violated by American and South Vietnamese troops as a result of the Vietnamese war.

Light Eiffel Tower in Your Honor for $40

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: Midgets are born in only about one out of a million births. They occur in all the races of mankind. Throughout history men have been more likely to wear beards in war than in peace. An exception was the Romans, who generally preferred to remain clean-shaven. Queen Hatshepsut of Egypt wore a ceremonial gold beard as a symbol of her divinity. If you happen to celebrate your happy birthday in France this summer, you can have the Eiffel Tower lit up in your honor by paying a fee of $40. ## The Savage Cell — Chapter 4

Can We Await Proof of Certain Cancer Sources?

BY PAT McGRADY

We live in a sea of carcinogens—cancer causers.

Some of them are natural and long familiar. Others are the man-made products of modern times.

They are in the food we eat, the water and beverages we drink, the air we breathe, the habits we develop, the jobs we hold, the drugs and medical treatments we take, in radiations from the heavens above and the earth below.

They may be inside us—in the mechanics of our emotions, in the hormones we produce or fail to produce, in our inherited or accidentally disturbed cell chemistry, perhaps even in the cumulative chemical and physical injury incurred in the process of growing up and growing old.

Ineffectual Efforts

There have been efforts to identify these dangers and to eliminate them, but so far the efforts have been weak and, except in a few notable instances, ineffectual.

Laws have been strengthened to ban some carcinogens from commercial products and bar them from natural resources, but, as against the dizzying pace of developments, current statutes and enforcement agencies have fallen farther and farther behind the need.

It must be made clear at the outset that the evidence against any single substance as causing human cancer is strictly circumstantial.

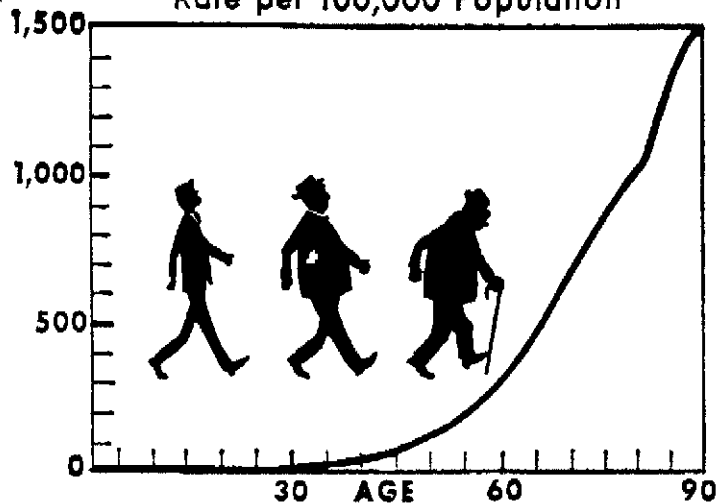

Courts of law, however, regularly send men to the gallows on circumstantial evidence more tenuous than the case against some suspect carcinogens still peddled freely and unabated.

Two sets of circumstances help compound the issue of what causes cancer.

Human Problem

One is human—the honest inability of equally qualified experts to agree on the validity or interpretation of evidence, the

CANCER DEATH RATES BY AGE
Rate per 100,000 Population pressures and propaganda of the industries to protect themselves and their products, and the natural tendency of scientists to surrender to or to bitterly resist the pressures.

A few researchers have been forced to resign their positions because their findings were unfavorable to an influential industry or product, but their colleagues sometimes argue as to whether true persecution or the scientists' paranoid evangelism was at the root of these incidents.

The second difficulty lies with the suspect substances themselves. It is difficult to ascertain what constitutes a real danger to humans. Some carcinogens cause cancers in 80 or 90 per cent of one sex of animal, and virtually no cancers in littermates of the opposite sex.

And even though a carcinogen induces tumors in a wide variety of mice, rats, dogs, cats, rabbits, guinea pigs, flies, cockroaches, sunflowers, fish, and chickens, almost invariably a few organisms escape.

Susceptibility Varies

Except in highly inhibited strains, susceptibility to cancer varies as much as or more than the carcinogenic agents themselves.

Some carcinogens act alone. Some must work together. Many must be dissolved in natural fats, oils or water to take effect. And some cause cancer only when altered by body chemistry.

Some have additive effect—that is two or more of them pool their potency. Some have a multiplying effect—one may make another five or ten times as potent. One may cancel out the effects of another. Some cancer-causers even are used as anti-cancer drugs.

Some chemicals act in concert with physical or chemical injury, cold, heat, growth, aging, genes, hormones, viruses, rays, vitamins or enzymes. Some cancer-causers are inactive unless there is a deficiency of a vitamin or hormone or enzyme.

Medical Fantasy

Some of the foremost absurdities in the fertile field of medical fantasy center around carcinogens.

They range from soothing assurances by manufacturers and vendors to ridiculous declarations by alarmists from panic printed in public periodicals to childish secrecy—supposedly panic-preventing—by scientists and health agencies.

The most notable instance of federal action against a carcinogen was in the famous tainted cranberry episode. The government's intemperate blast in a naive press against defiant cranberry growers did not win the confidence of the public or the respect of science.

The answer to the riddle of cancer-causation may be basic—such as the possibility of some yet unknown common denominators. But important clues could lie in a number of other vague areas.

"House of Cancer"

Is there, for instance, such a thing as a "house of cancer"—a house in which an inordinate number of cancer deaths have occurred? There are a number of these eerie residences in which all or almost all unrelated tenant families for a half-century or more lost at least one member to cancer. Is this sheer coincidence? Or is there something in the structure, the grounds, the air or the water which is conducive to cancer?

Is it mere coincidence that in the class of 1940 of one Maryland high school of 400 students, seven developed leukemia and died within a decade? That all victims lived on the same street and sat near one another in class? And three more classmates died of cancers related to leukemia?

Carcinogens have been recognized for almost 200 years ever since scientists traced the cause of scrotum cancer in London chimney sweeps to soot.

No Time To Wait

Some 30 years ago, it was first shown that butter yellow, a food additive, caused liver cancer in rats.

Since then, many new carcinogens have been identified. Some are among the 800 artificial chemicals in common use and possibly among the 50 or so introduced each year to the public. They are called carcinogens because they cause cancers in experimental animals. Most independent scientists consider this evidence of a potential danger to man.

The path to scientific proof has many pitfalls. For instance,

Neenah Denies Post Office Site Zoning

Landowners Fear Designation Would Hurt Property Value

NEENAH — Commercial zoning was denied for the proposed site of the new post office by the council at a public hearing Wednesday evening.

The post office department had asked favorable consideration for the petition for rezoning presented by Robert Campbell. The real estate division of the postal department in correspondence with Mayor Carl Loehning, indicated it was their experience that commercial zoning would make the proposed construction more attractive to bidders and better prices would be obtained.

The site, a triangle bounded by Caroline Church and Franklin streets had previously been cleared for the building by altering an existing ordinance to allow construction of a government building on the location without the necessary rezoning. Mayor Loehning told the council and property owners present rezoning was not necessary for construction of the building. The request was only conforming to the recommendation of the postal department.

A petition, containing 16 signatures, was presented against rezoning. Property owners present and information on the petition said rezoning of the property to commercial use would devalue property abutting the site and make it necessary for the owners to request commercial zoning to retain their property value. Ald. Harold Young, 10th Ward, told the hearing it would be the beginning of the deterioration of the area.

Hooligan Girls Roam London and Attack Visitors

LONDON (AP) — A gang of teen-age girl hooligans struck Wednesday night.

In the Hoxton area of the East End they jumped four teen-age girls from another section of London.

Two of the visiting girls were almost stripped. They were treated for injuries at a hospital. One was detained with head and rib injuries. Police said the attackers were about 12 in number and wore jeans and leather jackets.

The girls who attacked us, said Georgina Christopher, 13, were like savages.

She said the attackers robbed them, kicked them, pushed cigarettes in their hair and banged their heads against a wall.

Police detained five girls until after midnight and then sent them home in charge of their parents.

Dog Show Set At Winnebago

WINNEBAGO — The Children's Unit at Winnebago State Hospital will have a dog show from 2 to 3 p.m. Saturday in Hughes Hall B gymnasium sponsored by the Oshkosh Kennel Club.

More than 40 purebred dogs including 25 different breeds, will be shown. These dogs will be paraded for the boys and girls and a short narration as to the origin of each breed will be given. A demonstration of obedience work will also be given.

Static Frustrating To Scientists Trying To Assess Ion Engine

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Scientists attempting to assess the performance of a tiny electric rocket engine orbited Saturday from Vandenberg Air Force Base are being frustrated by static in telemetry transmissions.

Called an ion engine, the 22-pound space vehicle is powered by a small nuclear reactor.

The ion engine represents an advanced propulsion concept that could operate continuously in deep space flight to provide accelerations up to 10,000 g's.

Air Force scientists said Wednesday that the engine went through a warmup sequence on command Sunday but that subsequent static in the telemetry system has made analysis of its performance impossible.

The nuclear reactor has been functioning satisfactorily since it was turned on last Sunday.

Viet Nam Naval Officers in Mutiny Against Commander

SAIGON — South Viet Nam (AP) — Junior South Vietnamese naval officers staged a mutiny in Saigon tonight against the navy commander, Ad. Chung Tan Cang.

Skyriders of the South Vietnamese air force, which is loyal to the government, were curbing the city, apparently to make sure there was no trouble. There was no shooting.

Menasha Defers Action on Proposed Shopping Center

Appleton Agent Promises Food Chain, Department Store, Choice

MENASHA — Development of a department store, food market and variety store on the block between First and Second Streets and Racine and Milwaukee Streets was offered to the Menasha city council Wednesday night with the council delaying action for two weeks.

The development was offered by Robert Burns, a Milwaukee real estate developer, and Gordon Van Dinter, Appleton real estate agent.

Van Dinter has offered the city $111,000 for the 2.963 acre site, less one back lot and a 25-foot service drive which the city could retain for parking and access.

Burns proposes to build a chain food store and a variety store on the site and then acquire the remainder of the block for department store development. He said he would guarantee, in writing, a department store of the city's choice.

Asks for Discussion — Ald. Louis Gamme objected to taking any action Wednesday night and said, "let's discuss this in a committee of the whole."

Ald. Richard Hansen then moved to reject the bids for the land but later rescinded his motion when the council agreed to hold up action for two weeks.

Hansen, who was defeated in his bid for re-election Tuesday, has advocated building a new city hall on the Racine Street site.

Burns said the food and variety store plans would be for a 100 by 250 foot building with 25,000 square feet of floor space and parking for 140 cars. He said they would need the rest of the block for a department store to have adequate parking.

2-Story Store — In answer to a question from Ald. Walter Remmel, Burns said the department store plan would be for two stories with overlapping second floor.

The food and variety stores would face Racine Street while the department store would face Milwaukee Street, he added.

Unemployment Up During March — MADISON (AP) — The Industrial Commission reported today that unemployment compensation payments in March totaled $5.7 million compared with $5.4 million in February and $6.4 million in March of last year.

Clerk Called on Carpet For Giving Note Pads

Memo pads on the desks of city clerks are very useful and will be glad to take all I can get. Groh walked over to Fischer's desk and gave Fischer his supply.

It seems that for an extended period of time the pads of City Disposal Corp., Brookfield, have appeared regularly on the desks.

The firm was unsuccessful a year ago in getting the contract for the city's garbage and trash pickup and over the months there have been attempts by a few to revive the issue.

Ald. R. P. Groh (8th) ignited the firestorm when he complained to colleagues that he did not want his desk "cluttered" with memo pads every month, especially from Peter Abeles and City Disposal Corp.

is the firm's representative. "Like to know," he said, "I'd like to know who keeps putting these things on our desks from this firm."
